“As a faculty datasteward at UCT Prague, not only do I have the pleasure of supporting our researchers in their great projects, but also, I also get to learn about their science along the way. The same applies for diverse consultations and education activities I have the privilege to provide under the NTK Academic Services and EOSC Education Centre.”

Having worked as a postdoc with stem cells, which meant no weekends or holidays, I decided to switch to PC work to enjoy my free time. Although I initially considered this to be a temporary change, over time I realised that the role of a Data Steward is quite important in shaping the future of science. So maybe I'll stay here after all! 😊
