Programs for attracting talents

PRIMUS

- Since the start of the Primus program, 162 projects out of 384 submitted proposals have been supported/financed;
- More than 700 million CZK was spent for successful Primus projects;
- The Primus program has attracted 79 young excellent scientists from abroad;
- The interest of young foreign scientist in the Primus program is growing every year, as is their success in this program;
- Because of the Primus program, the Charles University has 17 ERC grant beneficiaries and 10 beneficiaries of other major foreign grants;

MSCA Charleston

- Charles University was the only applicant from the Czech Republic to be awarded CZK 60 million for its Charleston project under the EU's flagship program for doctoral and postdoctoral training to support young scientists.
- The program will begin recruiting in March 2025.
- The focus of the research projects will emphasize sustainability and the UN Sustainable Development Goals.
- The program aims to attract the top 20 postdoctoral researchers from abroad.

Donatio Carolinæ Chair Research Support

- The aim is to support (for a minimum period of six months and a maximum of two years) senior researchers with sufficient experience (usually researchers with long-term experience abroad or researchers coming from abroad, mid-career researchers, R3 established researchers, i.e., those who have had a Ph.D. degree for 8 or more years).
 - The support should contribute to the future development of a certain field.
 - 5 excellent candidates already supported
- DUC Chairs:
 - Patrick Farrell (University of Oxford)
 - Helena van Beersel Krejčíková (University of Southern Denmark)
 - Stefan Edelkamp (King's College London)
 - Paul Chaisty (University of Oxford)
 - Jan Komárek (University of Copenhagen)
